If the requested search identifies more than 50 cases eligible for release, your results will be emailed to you within 5 business days. A staff member will contact you when more than 50 results are identified to give you an opportunity to refine your search and receive the results sooner e.g. limiting your search to cases commenced in the last year.

If you are undertaking a research project and need to review a large amount of data, you should review our information and data release policy available here.

If your application is urgent, specific details must be provided at the end of this form regarding the reasons for urgency.

The reliability and value of the search report depends on the accuracy of the details you provide on this form. Staff will search for the exact name that you provide on the form. The database is updated in real time and includes all cases that have commenced since 1 January 1989.
